TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1864.
Gov. Brown on Peace.
According to the Augusta Constitutionalist, Gov. Brown of Georgia, has made a statement regarding the reported peace negotiations between himself and General Sherman.

He says General Sherman sent a proposal to him by a private messenger asking him to visit Atlanta, and confer in reference to the withdrawal of Georgia from the confederacy, but that the offer was rejected, and the reply returned that the faith of Georgia is pledged to her sister Southern states, and that she will take no action in such affairs without consent with them.

We do not know whether or not the statement was written, but the declaration of the Constitutionalist is of deep significance, if true. Nothing is left but to fight it out, and teach the entire state the lesson already learned by the people who reside along the late line of march.

A Mistake.
In publishing the names of the Pennsylvania congressmen, last Sunday morning, an error occurred in the name of one of the candidates. We published it as James K. Moorehead; it should have been James K. Moorehead.

Indians Soldiers. The Copperhead legislature of your state denied you the right of suffrage, but you can do a good work by writing to your friends at home to vote their duty in November.

Ohio Soldiers of the second congressional district. Remember that the union candidate for congress in your district is the gallant Colonel Hayes, at present commanding a brigade under General Sheridan. He has been in the service since the commencement of the war, and lost an arm in battle. Will you sustain him? Your district has been disgraced long enough by Aleck Long; and now you have an opportunity to redeem it—and you will do it nobly.

Benjamin Eggleston, the front of the soldier, is the union candidate for Congress in the first district of Ohio; his opponent is George E. Fugh, who outdoes Vallandigham as a slanderer of the soldiers. His usual epithets are, "traitor," "scoundrel," "coward." His language toward them, in a recent speech in Covington, Kentucky, was such that the boys in blue, together with some Ohio Kentuckians found it necessary to clean him out, and right effectively did they do it. He will be still more effectively cleaned out to day, and in a perfectly legitimate manner, at the ballot box.

Soldiers! Choose your day which of these men is to represent you in Congress.

Pennsylvania Soldiers! All good and true union men look to your action today with the deepest interest. Many believe that as your state goes, so will go the presidential election in November. See to it that every vote is polled to day.

The soldiers, during the last three years have been killing rebels with bullets to day they will kill them with ballots. They are all right with either weapon.

Ohio Volunteers! The copperhead papers and orators have been representing you so in sympathy with the enemy that you were favorable to the Chicago platform. You will, today, prove that they have slandered you.

The Chicago platform declares that the war has been a failure; that the army has done nothing; that the soldiers have rendered no service. The traitors and slanders have been to rebuke their villanies at the ballot-box to day.

The people of Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania will roll up huge majorities for the union ticket, the soldiers vote will at least double it. The volunteers all vote one way—for their country.

Let all Ohio soldiers who are here be on hand at the proper places today and give an overwhelming majority for the union ticket.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Times correspondent with Sheridan's army, Early had noticed passed through the valley, when he moved toward Harper's Ferry the last time, notifying the inhabitants that they must pay taxes on or before the 1st of October. There is evidence on every hand showing that Early supposed that he should hold easy sway in the valley, and even after he had been driven back to Fisher's Mountain, he boasted that he would check the Yankees, and soon drive them back to Harper's Ferry.

The Herald's 10th corps correspondent says the Commanding General of the Army of the Potomac, Gen. Burnside, has issued an order of commendation to the gallant command which did so nobly in pressing back the enemy through a long series of their works on Tuesday last. General Butler will doubtless himself issue an order to reward the extraordinary gallantry evinced by many of the officers and men in his command.

The Herald's 10th corps correspondent says that 600 rebel prisoners came down yesterday from Baltimore, landing at Marina Ferry, where they were taken to Camp Detention, and were handed to the rebel authorities. A family accompanied them from Baltimore, that was ordered by the President to leave our lines.

The Herald's Bay correspondent, in a letter dated Sept. 30th, says that the week of the dispatch—boat Phillips, sunk by the rebels when endeavoring to pass the forts after our fleet had passed in, has been overwhelmed by submarine operators. The wreck of the rebel gunboat Gibson, sunk the same day by our fleet, has also been worked on and several of her guns have been raised.

The Government to make arrangements for their relief. The fifth that the terms of service of many have expired and urges an exchange that they may return home. The sixth says they are willing to suffer further for the benefit of the country, but are unwilling to suffer in behalf of any party, and asks that the matter be fully explained to them.

P. B. BRADLEY, Chairman Committee.

Ohio Election.
In our advertising campaign, we will find a detail of the arrangements for taking the vote of the Ohio troops in this place. We hope every man will turn out. Particularly do we desire to see a big vote rolled up for Eggleston, in the first congressional district. Let George Fugh receive a rebuke that will teach him that slandering soldiers is a business that doesn't pay.

Attack on a Railroad Car.
Yesterday about two o'clock, a party of twelve or fifteen guerrillas made a descent on the Louisville railroad near South Tunnel, at a switch where a car loaded with bacon was standing, and got it on fire, and cut the telegraph wires. A party of six negroes were at the car, at the time, getting rations for a garrison near by, five of whom were killed on the spot—the other escaping with a wound in his right shoulder.

We presume that this is the same lot of desperadoes that robbed a train near the same place some days since. They look nothing after.

SPECIAL DISPATCH.
A monster Lincoln and Johnson meeting was held here to-night, numbering at least 4000 persons.

From two stands of electric speeches were made by Col. T. K. Stanley, James R. Hood, and others. The army is a unit against the peace policy.

Citizens of Ohio.
Who today vote at the polls, before you cast your ballots.

REMEMBER
that for the recognition of your right to vote while in the military service of the government, you are indebted to the union legislature, and a union Governor.

REMEMBER
that in all the states where the so-called democrats have had a majority in the legislature, soldiers have been denied the right to vote.

REMEMBER
that the commissioners appointed by the governor from the so-called democratic party, to distribute poll-books and tally sheets to you, refused to come.

REMEMBER
that as Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania today go, so will, in all probability, the country go in November.

REMEMBER
that the rebels cheer for McClellan and the Chicago platform and that if he is elected, they say they will have peace on their own terms.

REMEMBER
that the candidates for state officers in Ohio upon the so-called democratic ticket, support McClellan and the Chicago platform.

REMEMBER
that the candidates for congress on the so-called democratic ticket are pledged with but one or two exceptions, to vote not another man nor another dollar to the war.

REMEMBER
to vote to-day for the vigorous prosecution of the war, till traitors who took up arms shall lay them down.

REMEMBER
to vote for freedom and national unity and against slavery and disunion.

REMEMBER
to give this vote to your country. Work early and late, and incessantly. The Buckeye State, the home of Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, McPherson and Rosecrans, calls on you this day to place her by your side, where your arms have already placed her.

IN THE FRONT RANK OF THE LOYAL HOSTS.
Fight traitors with your ballots as you have with your bullets.
